SUPPORTING PROGRAM

In 2013, GIZ (Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit GmbH), the Forum of Environmental Journalists of India and Third Pole in cooperation with IFAT India and the DW Akademie have launched the “All India Environmental Journalism Competition”. The winners in the Print, Web and Photo categories will be again presented with their awards at IFAT India on October 9, 2014.

In the Innovation Exchange Forum Indian and international experts will give a look at the latest trends and techniques in the environmental industry.

EXHIBITOR TESTIMONIALS

Hemant Watve, CEO and Media Director, WILO Mather & Platt Pumps Ltd.:

“The first edition of IFAT INDIA brought in a lot of technology experts from the industry, and WILO MPP was glad to exhibit here because it gave us a number of opportunities to meet with and contact a worldwide network of customers in the field of clean and waste water utility.”

Fillipo Cappozzo, Owner, Ecostar S.R.L.:

“Visitor turnout was very good and we are very satisfied with the trade fair. We have never participated in a trade fair in India and for the first time IFAT INDIA gave us a good platform and networking opportunity with the industry.”

Prashant Talmale, General Manager Recycling, South Asia, METSO:

“Solid waste management is a new topic in India. IFAT INDIA 2013 put across this subject correctly to the Municipal Corporation, Municipal operators and scrap processors in India. The show also demonstrated what exactly happens in the industry in a scientific way.”
